Portfolio description

This portfolio looks to achieve capital growth in excess of inflation, whilst supporting inclusive economic development by investing in more environmentally and socially sustainable business practices. The portfolio will look to do this by investing in a diversified range of funds, which allocate capital to sustainable themes, such as healthcare and social housing, financial inclusion and education, the circular economy and renewable energy. The portfolio is diversified across a range of asset classes with a medium allocation to funds investing in equities (expected to be no greater than 75%) and other risk assets. Target volatility: 5% - 9%

United Nations Sustainable Development Goals

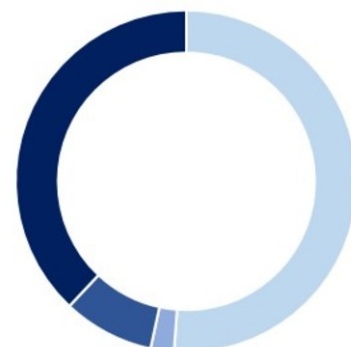

Portfolio pillar mapping

As part of the LGT Wealth Management Sustainable Model Portfolio Service, we have developed four sustainable investment pillars. These pillars encompass investment themes and the related the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDG), which they aim to support. Two of the pillars target social themes and two target environmental themes. This allows the translation of a framework based on a global, wide-reaching social and environmental change into an investable universe of ideas.

Our sustainable investment pillars

In order to better understand the thematic exposure of the portfolios, we have aligned the underlying funds to our sustainable pillars.

Key

Healthcare and societal wellbeing	62%
Financial inclusion and education	3%
Circular economy and resources	9%
Climate and Environmental action	26%

Monthly investment update

Following a rebound in May, global equity markets have broadly held onto gains throughout June, supported by tentative progress on trade talks and a relatively strong US earnings season. Trump's 'big, beautiful bill' – a multi-trillion-dollar tax cut package aimed at extending the 2017 tax breaks – narrowly cleared the House of Representatives and has since passed through the Senate despite fiscal hawks pushing back amid growing concerns over ballooning deficits. The Fed, buoyed by a healthy May jobs report, held rates steady while it watches how tariff policies feed through to inflation and has indicated that it's unlikely to act until it sees more sustained signs of inflation either flaring or fading.

While June has, on balance, been a constructive month for markets, the backdrop remains complex. Trade talks can easily reverse, US fiscal policy remains in flux and central banks are navigating a delicate balance between inflation risks and weak consumer sentiment. For investors, staying diversified and focusing on long-term fundamentals remains key.
